

We're sorry, your flight has been

CANCELLED

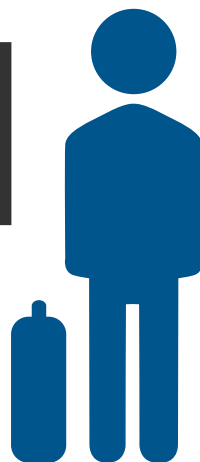

Arctic Blast. Polar Vortex. Snowmageddon. Call it what you want, no cute catchphrase or clever new storm name brings much comfort to the millions of travelers impacted by this winter's barrage of severe weather.

97,400 U.S. FLIGHTS CANCELED SINCE DEC. 1

5% of all domestic flights scheduled during that period.

5.6 MILLION

PASSENGERS AFFECTED BY CANCELLATIONS (42.8 MILLION BY DELAYS)

ON AVERAGE, EACH CANCELED FLIGHT ADDS...

18 HOURS

ADDITIONAL TRAVEL TIME

7,400

CANCELLATIONS ON FEB. 13 – THE WORST AIR TRAVEL DAY OF THE WINTER

$37.60/HOUR

PER PASSENGER IN COSTS

(re-booked flights, hotels, rental cars, meals)

$15-50 BILLION

WORTH OF LOSSES DUE TO RECORD FLIGHT CANCELLATIONS, ACCORDING TO ECONOMISTS